

Translation and Interpreting Programme of Baltic International Academy
Latvian Association of Translators and Interpreters
The University of Economics and Culture

invite to participate at

Summer School for Novice Translators and Interpreters
July 3-7, 2017

Who it is for

The programme is designed for

- university students and graduates of translation studies
- secondary school students and recent graduates
- everybody who wishes to apply skills to pursue a career in translation and interpretation.

Why to apply

In today's global economy, translators and interpreters are valued for their ability to communicate words, ideas, and concepts across cultures. The Summer School for Novice Translators and Interpreters prepares you to pursue a career in this exciting field. The programme is designed to enhance your fluency and prepare you to work successfully in international and intercultural environments.

When does it take place and where?

3- 7 July, 2007
Lomonosova street 4, Riga, Latvia

What certificates do I receive?

Upon successful completion of the summer school, you will receive a "Certificate of Completion." This is a document that states that you have gone through the necessary training of Summer School. This does not mean that you are qualified as translators and interpreters. Rather, it means that you have undergone the necessary training in areas of audio-visual translation, technical translation, SDL Trados Studio skills, and interpreting.
